

Julie Wilensky is an attorney at Lewis, Feinberg, Lee, Renaker & Jackson, P.C. in Oakland, California. She represents employees in class actions involving breach of fiduciary duty claims under ERISA, employment discrimination claims under Title VII and related laws, and wage and hour claims. Ms. Wilensky also represents individual clients with disability and pension claims. She is particularly interested in LGBT employee benefits issues and represents same-sex spouses and domestic partners in employee benefit claims and litigation.

Ms. Wilensky is a member of the board of directors of BALIF, the Bay Area's LGBT Bar Association, and is an active volunteer at the Legal Aid Society Employment Law Center's Workers' Rights Clinic. She is also a frequent speaker and writer on employee benefits issues. Before joining Lewis Feinberg, she was a law clerk to Judge John T. Noonan, Jr. of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit and Judge Nicholas G. Garaufis of the U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of New York. Ms. Wilensky is a graduate of Yale Law School and Yale College.
