RESOLUTION FOR RECOMMENDED REFORMS TO PRETRIAL PRACTICES
PROPOSED BY
THE CRIMINAL JUSTICE COMMITTEE OF THE LOUISIANA STATE BAR ASSOCIATION

WHEREAS, the mission of the Louisiana State Bar Association's Criminal Justice Committee in part is "to recognize and address issues affecting the Louisiana criminal justice system . . . and develop programs and solutions for fair and effective administration of justice;" and

WHEREAS, Louisiana has the highest pretrial detention rate of any state in the nation and more than double the national average; and

WHEREAS, pretrial detention of low-risk defendants unable to afford money bail implicates Due Process and Equal Protection guarantees and is associated with higher rates of recidivism, both pretrial and post-disposition; and

WHEREAS, the bail system creates a debilitating financial burden on the municipalities that end up shouldering the cost of unnecessarily housing pretrial defendants; and

WHEREAS, the Criminal Justice Committee produced a report on the current state of the bail system, available on the LSBA Criminal Justice Committee webpage, to review practices and make recommendations, based on its findings, for policy changes that would save municipalities money while increasing public safety and reducing recidivism; and

WHEREAS, the report details major holdings and constitutional challenges occurring in Louisiana and other States against the existing bail practices and statutes that condition release and detention on ability to pay rather than through risk assessment, including In re Humphrey, 19 Cal. App. 5th 1006 (2018), O'Donnell v. Harris County, 892 F. 3d 147 (5th Cir. 2018), and the Louisiana specific holding in Caliste v. Cantrell, 2017 WL 6344152 (E.D. La. 2017); and

WHEREAS, these major holdings, and others noted in the Committee's Report, confirm that the constitutional mandates applicable to a State bail system and pretrial detention procedures call into question the constitutionality of the Louisiana pretrial detention procedures and practices, under the Due Process Clause and the Equal Protection Clauses, including financial conflicts of interest in the use of bail bond fees financing the criminal judiciary; and

WHEREAS, the Committee disseminated a survey to all judicial districts to understand the application of pretrial procedures used in various jurisdictions and found that said procedures vary from jurisdiction to jurisdiction and in some cases courtroom to courtroom; and

WHEREAS, the overwhelming majority of courts do not use research-based pretrial risk assessments to predict the likelihood of a defendant's success in returning to court and remaining arrest-free when released on bail;
WHEREAS, a tripartite model for bail decision-making is used by the federal system and supported by the American Bar Association, which includes: 1) release on recognizance for those who pose little risk, 2) non-financial release with a range of supports or supervision for those who pose some degree of risk, and 3) non-financial preventative detention for defendants for whom the court finds, "by clear and convincing evidence, that no conditions of release can reasonably assure the safety of the community or any person;" and

WHEREAS, the timeliness of this report coincides with the passing of two Louisiana House of Representatives Concurrent Resolutions, 97 & 100, during the 2018 legislative session — the former requesting the Department of Insurance to create a Task Force to study the commercial bail bond industry and make recommendations for proposed legislation to "more effectively serve the residents of Louisiana" and the latter urging the Louisiana State Law Institute study "whether a system which provides for the presumed release of a person on unsecured personal surety or bail without surety in lieu of a preset bail schedule would be more successful in ensuring the appearance of the defendant and the public safety of the community."

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Louisiana State Bar Association adopt the following recommendations:

(1) Shift the system's reliance on money bail towards a focus on risk to public safety;

(2) Create clear policies and procedures for the determining whether to detain or release an individual and ensure those policies provide for access to meaningful legal representation;

(3) Restore the constitutionally-mandated presumption of release and require pretrial detention only when allowed by law and when strictly necessary;

(4) Create a statewide data collection system that can be used to increase uniformity and consistency in bail setting practices; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the LSBA urges the judiciary, district attorneys, public defenders, sheriffs, and all stakeholders involved in bail and pretrial detention to consider adoption of tools and methods for carrying out these recommendations.

HOUSE OF DELEGATES & BOARD OF GOVERNORS
JANUARY 19, 2019
BATON ROUGE, LA
RESOLUTION TO LSBA HOUSE OF DELEGATES

WHEREAS, the Louisiana State Bar Association (LSBA) has for many years held its annual meeting at the Sandestin Resort in Florida;

WHEREAS, attendance by members of the LSBA at the annual meeting has been declining in recent years;

WHEREAS, the LSBA has in excess of 24,000 members and only a few hundred members of the bar association attend its annual meeting at Sandestin Resort, and the leadership of LSBA has expressed concern as to how the bar association could get greater participation in bar activities from its general membership;

WHEREAS, the attendees at the LSBA greatly contributes to the economy of Florida and also to the treasury of the State of Florida through sales, gasoline, and hotel taxes.

WHEREAS, if the annual meeting of the LSBA was held within the State of Louisiana, such meeting would help to stimulate the economy of the State of Louisiana and money spent for sales, gasoline, and hotel taxes would go to the Treasury of the State of Louisiana;

THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the Louisiana state Bar Association conduct a survey of its members to see if the majority of its members would prefer to have the annual meeting held within the State of Louisiana and to consider the likelihood that doing so would increase attendance at the annual meeting;
BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that LSBA explore appropriate places within the State of Louisiana to have its annual meeting and report to the House of Delegates at the annual meeting at Sandestin, Florida in June, 2019, as to what year the annual meeting could be held in such appropriate places within the State of Louisiana.

FAILED BY A VOTE OF 86-76
HOUSE OF DELEGATES & BOARD OF GOVERNORS
JANUARY 19, 2019
BATON ROUGE, LA
The House of Delegates having held its Mid-Year Meeting on January 19, 2019, and the following Proposed Resolution has been brought by David A. Szwak, of Shreveport, Chairman of the Consumer Protection Section and a Member of the Committee on the Profession, and Vercell Fiffie, of Edgard, and the matter being brought before the House of Delegates for vote and approval:

BE IT RESOLVED THAT the House of Delegates for the Louisiana State Bar Association has considered and voted to approve the following recommended action to the Honorable Justices of the Louisiana Supreme Court for approval and further orders to issue according and as necessary: That the use of consumer credit reports and credit scores as part of the character and fitness process be terminated. Further, that the use of consumer credit reports and credit scores by the Office of Disciplinary Counsel be terminated. For reasons outlined by the proponents of this Resolution, there are a number of substantial problems which make the use of those reports and scores problematic and lacking as a reliable measure for character, fitness and as an investigatory device for discipline.

The House of Delegates having approved this Proposed Resolution, the Resolution should be issued to the Honorable Justices of the Louisiana Supreme Court for approval and further orders to issue according and as necessary.

HOUSE OF DELEGATES & BOARD OF GOVERNORS

BATON ROUGE, LA
For many of you who have practiced law for decades, it may come as a surprise to you to learn that the Bar began the practice of using consumer [credit] reports as part of character and fitness investigations of applicants. Further, the ODC uses consumer [credit] reports for investigating and prosecuting ODC charges. While the federal Fair Credit Reporting Act may allow same under 15 U.S.C. 1681b, the actual practice is problematic.

[1] Error Rates of 50% to 90% of all Reports

Consider the error rates for consumer credit reports. Published testimony of industry personnel and studies by non-consumer reporting agencies showed that the error rate is 50%-90% across the board for all reports published by all three national consumer reporting agencies, Experian, Equifax and Trans Union.\(^1\) Despite decades of litigation, monumental damages and punitive damages awards, mainly in the federal court system due to removal and preemption, those agencies have failed to make necessary improvements and corrections. Testimony proved that roughly half of the error rate [25%-45% of all reports] consisted of errors that were so serious that the error[s] would have resulted in the denial of credit, denial of employment, denial of a license, denial of a mortgage, denial of a security clearance, etc. Hence, this is not a mere incorrect address or a contested “typographical error” but includes the kinds of errors discussed below.

So, why are these reports treated as “reliable” when they are anything but reliable? The reports are treated with a presumption of accuracy because it is in a written report. I should not have to remind you all of the countless, daily reports of the nightmares encountered by consumers seeking correction of errors. Some of these processes never resolve. After all, disputes, dispute reinvestigations, dispute corrections, and the like are not profit-centers for the consumer [credit] reporting agencies of their symbiotic partners, the information furnishers, resellers, public record vendors, etc. These error resolution processes are cost-centers. Most of these entities transferred and outsourced these processes to India, South America, the Caribbean and other third world locations. Have any of you tried obtaining corrections by contacting an outsourced call and automated dispute resolution center? It is a horrific and never-ending process.

\(^1\) See “Credit Reports Are Full of Errors: FTC,” American Banker, https://www.americanbanker.com/news/credit-reports-are-full-of-errors-ftc [Feb. 11, 2013]; In a deposition taken in February, 1996, in Sheridan v. Equifax, et al, cause no. 95-274-CIV-ORL-22, United States District Court, Middle District of Florida, Judith Chipley, a major Florida-based Mortgage Reporting Company's Credit Investigation Supervisor, testified that in her experience of reviewing credit bureau reports from the three major credit bureaus, TRW, Trans Union and Equifax, she found an error/inaccuracy rate of 50%-90%. In essence, over half of all reports contained errors. Many of the error-ridden reports contained substantial and significant errors. Her job was to reinvestigate the credit reports and compile a thorough, complete mortgage report on the applicants, through use of the data in the three major bureaus’ reports on the applicants. Mortgage reports, since it is a protracted, large dollar transaction, are more carefully prepared through reinvestigating the error-ridden reports of the three major bureaus then compiling accurate data for use by the lender. Chipley's statement that more than half of all the reports she reviewed were error-ridden is astounding. Chipley testified that father-son, junior-senior, generational difference and common named persons, suffered at least a 90% error rate virtually insuring their reports are inaccurate. Chipley's testimony was summarized and highlighted in: R. Smith, "A Look Inside a Credit Bureau's Operation," Privacy Journal, Vol.22, No.6, p.5 [April 1996]. Oddly, Chipley's laughter was noted on the deposition record as she described the bizarre error rates and problems suffered by consumers. Also, see https://ivebeenmugged.typepad.com/my_weblog/2013/02/ftc-credit-report-errors.html
Consider the application of Mr. Carter to become a Louisiana Bar member on transfer from another state where he was a licensed bar member. He was fully qualified however his credit report contained some negative trade line information or at least ODC felt it did. Carter’s application was held up, as ODC was convinced Carter lied about his credit usage, and he could not become a Louisiana Bar member and licensed Attorney due to ODC’s interpretation of his credit report. A trial was eventually held after inordinate delays and Honorable Andy Gallagher presided. It was proven that Carter’s credit report was not being interpreted correctly by ODC. Carter had to pay an attorney, an expert and endure litigation through trial to clear his good name; all due to misinterpretation of his credit report. He has been a successful attorney and contributor to our Bar since.

Identity Theft

Identity theft is "application fraud." It is where a defrauder uses the victim's name or other unique identifier, like social security number, to apply for any form of benefit in the identity of the victim. The defrauder actually assumes the victim's identity. An address accessible by the defrauder is used as the "mail drop." Benefits are directed, via the application to the mail drop. The victim's name [or a permutation or likeness] and the victim's social security number [or a permutation within at least seven of nine digits of the victim's identifier to cause a "hit" on the victim's file] or other unique identifiers are listed on the application. Use of the victim's name and identifier causes the victim's credit file, for example, to be used during issuance of the benefit [for example, victim's credit score used in issuance process] and subsequent reporting of the unpaid fraud charges by the duped creditor attach to the victim's credit file.

Identity theft continues to grow each year. Financial frauds surge in natural disaster areas. Identity theft wreaks havoc on already error-laden consumer reporting databases. Unraveling fraud accounts from non-fraud accounts takes vigilance. The agencies view the consumers-victims as an expense caused by the agencies’ symbiotic partners, the creditors, whose furnishing of credit reports on the fraud accounts ends up posting into the victims’ files. The agencies cannot charge the consumers to clean up the mess and the agencies would not dare ask their partners to pay thus the agencies muddle along and hope the consumers-victims simply go away or, worse yet, pay the fraud charges to the duped creditors.

Mixed Credit Files

algorithms. First, inadequate inquiry data fields are required to be completed. Then the inquiry data is used in a matching algorithm where an inadequate number of required points of correspondence between the inquiry data is compared to identification data connected to the data in the database. What results is “over-information” a known problem when matching algorithms are loosened up to allow more hits than proper. It results in extraneous information listing as a match for inclusion in the report generated. As examples, father-son/senior-junior-III, partial first name consideration, ignoring last names, common names, 7 of 9 match on social security numbers, etc. There are many forms of mixed files however the common thread is that there is some minimal match process used resulting in over-information in the resultant report. The agencies frequently blame the consumer by claiming inconsistent use of identifiers on credit applications and other writings. The agencies often cover up mixed file issues by claiming identity theft when it really is not.

[5] Student Loans, Gym Club Memberships, Parking Tickets and Other Such Reportings

Student loan debt in America was $1.3 Trillion dollars at the end of 2015 and had surpassed credit card debts owed by Americans. Student loan debt is now second only to housing debts owed by Americans. Many law students are burdened with excessive student loans. Student loan credit reporting is mandated by the Higher Education Act. The loans have a negative impact on the face of the credit reports as well as economic ratios and credit scores. Making matters worse, in a race to the bottom, agencies seek out new sources of negative information such as gym club membership account data, parking ticket data, tenant data, and every other type imaginable. Any form of negative information is used to tweak the consumer and assess higher interest rates and charges.

Credit reporting and particularly debt collection credit reporting serves no function but to damage the consumer who is the subject of the reportings. Credit reporting is an act of debt collection by debt collection agencies. Credit reporting is a cheap and effective means of damaging the subject consumer which is the intended result sought by the defendants, as furnishers.

3 “On December 11, 2002, Comeaux filed this lawsuit under Sections 1681e[b] and 1681i[a] of the Fair Credit Reporting Act ["FCRA"], claiming that a mixed credit file has caused her to be denied credit with various lenders. More specifically, Comeaux claims that Experian combined her credit file with the credit file of another consumer, Mrs. Cindy Carr, thereby causing adverse credit that belonged to Mrs. Carr to be placed in Comeaux's credit file. Some of the inaccurate and derogatory information in Comeaux's credit file included: misspellings of Comeaux's name; that she had filed Chapter 7 bankruptcy; a listing of at least 70 trade lines and collection accounts; that she was married to another woman, Bridget, who is Mrs. Carr's teenage daughter; a listing of Mrs. Carr's home mortgage; that she had joint accounts with Louis Carr, Mrs. Carr's ex-husband; that she worked and lived in New Orleans; a listing of false telephone numbers, employer data; and finally, five different social security numbers, with only one being Comeaux's.” Comeaux v. During a required background check, Tenant Tracker produced a public records report which showed two criminal records for a “Chantel Taylor,” [and other “Taylors”] who were born on the same day as the plaintiff. Concluding Remarks

Credit reports fall short of a reliable tool to examine character and fitness of a candidate for the Bar. The inaccuracy rates are astounding. If any manufacturer performed with such rates, they would be run out of business. Sadly, because the reports are in writing, the reports are given an unusual presumption of accuracy when it should be the opposite. It falls on the consumer to protest and endure undue punishment and expense to seek corrections. We should recommend putting to an end the use of the reports in our processes.

C. Programs Which Qualify

1. General Rule

Continuing legal education (“CLE”) programs must be approved by the Louisiana Supreme Court Committee on Mandatory Continuing Legal Education (MCLE) before approval can be granted by the Advisory Commission. The overriding consideration in determining if a specific program qualifies as acceptable continuing legal education is that it be a formal program of learning which contributes directly to the professional competence of an attorney who specializes in the field of estate planning and administration law.

2. Program Approval

Programs shall be approved on a case-by-case basis by the Advisory Commission provided the program meets the general standards set forth in Section III, A and B 1.

No credit shall be awarded for firm meetings or "in house" CLE programs.

Section IV. OTHER METHODS OF EARNING SPECIALIZATION CLE CREDIT

1. Any other method of earning specialization CLE credit must be approved by MCLE before approval can be granted by the Advisory Commission, who shall then approve each request on a case-by-case basis.

2. All credit earned shall be calculated by MCLE in accordance with the Supreme Court of Louisiana Rules for Continuing Legal Education.

3. All requests for CLE credit shall be submitted to MCLE and the Advisory Commission within a reasonable period of time but no later than January 31 of the calendar year following the activity for which CLE credit is being sought.

B. Teaching

1. CLE credit may be awarded for teaching an approved CLE program pertinent to the specialization subject matter. If an individual teaches at a program and attends the balance of the program, then he or she shall receive credit for that portion of the program he or she did not teach in accordance with the Supreme Court of Louisiana Rules for Continuing Legal Education. No credit will be given for repetitious presentations of a program.

2. Teaching of academic courses in estate planning and administration law in a law school or other graduate level program presented by a recognized professional educational association may earn CLE credit.
3. CLE credit may be awarded for teaching an estate planning and administration course at any seminar, provided the presentation meets all criteria contained in Section III, A and B, other than Section III, A.3.

C. Writing

CLE credit may be awarded for writing of articles and other publications directed primarily to attorneys specializing in the estate planning and administration field of law and published in professional periodicals and publications. Credit will not be awarded for authorship of articles and other publications until the writing has been published.

D. Louisiana State Law Institute Committee Meetings

CLE credit may be awarded for attendance at Louisiana State Law Institute Committee meetings pertinent to the field of estate planning and administration.

E. Pro Bono

CLE credit may be awarded for providing uncompensated pro bono legal representation related to an estate planning and administration matter, as defined in Section IC herein, to an indigent or near-indigent client or clients. CLE credit shall not be granted until the representation has been assigned, completed and verified by the assigning organization as defined by and in accordance with the Supreme Court of Louisiana Rules for Continuing Legal Education.

Section V. CREDIT HOURS GRANTED

A. Only credit hours or the equivalent (and not hours dedicated to preparation) will be counted.

B. One (1) hour of continuing legal education credit will be awarded for each 60 minutes of instruction. Where the program is several periods of instruction with intervening breaks, the number of minutes of instruction are summed for the entire program for which the credit is claimed and then the total number of minutes is divided by 60.

C. A participant who is not present for an entire program may claim credit only for the portion he or she attended.

D. The credit hours assigned to a program by MCLE will be accepted by the Advisory Commission unless the hours are clearly inaccurate under the standards for computing credit in accordance with the Supreme Court of Louisiana Rules for Continuing Legal Education.

Section VI. COMPLIANCE

A. General Rule

Specialization CLE credit hours will be computed on a calendar year basis and all attendance information for CLE credits earned shall be delivered to MCLE by January 31 of the following year.

B. Notification

The Board will notify each non-compliant Board Certified Estate Planning and Administration Specialist of the credit hours he or she has earned during the preceding calendar year. The specialist shall have 30 days from the date of notification to appeal the award of credit hours.
A specialization transcript may be obtained from the Louisiana Board of Legal Specialization website located at: https://www.lascmele.org/specialization/index.aspx.

Section VII. ADMINISTRATION

The Advisory Commission may delegate its responsibility to rule on all matters pertaining to estate planning and administration CLE requirements to a committee consisting of at least three (3) Advisory Commission members. Any such committee shall report to the Advisory Commission, and the Advisory Commission shall, at all times, retain the right to review, modify, or supersede the decisions of any such committee.

Pursuant to the authority vested in the Louisiana Board of Legal Specialization (the "Board") by the Supreme Court of Louisiana and on the recommendation of the Estate Planning and Administration Advisory Commission (the “Advisory Commission”) the Board promulgates the following standards and requirements for Board certification in estate planning and administration in accordance with the Louisiana State Bar Association Plan of Legal Specialization (the "Plan") and the Rules and Regulations of the Louisiana Board of Legal Specialization (the “Rules”).

Section I. DEFINITIONS
