This webpage also allows members to edit their existing accounts and to reset a lost or forgotten account password.

After member data is confirmed but before the payment/filing process begins, members will be advised that they also need to go to www.LADB.org to complete the Louisiana Supreme Court Trust Account Disclosure and Overdraft Notification Authorization Form and will be asked to confirm that they understand this requirement.

The collection schedule will be the same as in prior years. In lieu of mailing a statement to each member, in mid-May, the LSBA will mail to each member a 4x6 postcard, which will provide instructions to go online to www.LSBA.org to complete the registration process, and also go online to www.LADB.org to complete the Trust Account Form. This is the only mailing members will receive prior to the July 1, 2017, due date; attorney registration statements will NOT be mailed.

Once members have electronically filed their Attorney Registration Statements (including any necessary changes and/or updates) and made the required payments, they will receive email confirmations. The filing and payment deadline will remain July 1. The LSBA will continue to mail delinquency and ineligibility notices to those who fail to meet the deadlines.

Members who elect to pay by electronic check will continue to pay the following fees:

- ► LSBA dues (practicing more than three years): $200;
- ► LSBA dues (practicing three years or less): $80;
- ► LADB assessment (practicing more than three years): $235; and
- ► LADB assessment (practicing three years or less): $170.

Those who are planning to pay by electronic check should contact their financial institutions to confirm that their accounts allow payment by this method.

As was the case last year, processing fees of 3%, plus a .20 transaction fee, will be passed along to those choosing to pay by credit card. Total amounts, including credit card processing fees, are as follows:

- ► LSBA dues (practicing more than three years): $206.20;

LBLS sets submission date for bankruptcy law certification applications

he Louisiana Board of Legal Specialization (LBLS) is accepting applications for business bankruptcy law and consumer bankruptcy law certification through Sept. 30, 2017.

In accordance with the Plan of Legal Specialization, a Louisiana State Bar Association (LSBA) member in good standing who has been engaged in the practice of law on a full-time basis for a minimum of five years may apply for certification. Further requirements are that each year a minimum percentage of the attorney's practice must be devoted to the area of certification sought and a written examination must be passed to demonstrate sufficient knowledge, skills and proficiency in the area for which certification is sought.

Applicants must meet a minimum CLE requirement for the year in which application is made and the examination is administered. CLE is regulated by the American Board of Certification, which is also the testing agency.

With regard to applications for business bankruptcy law and consumer bankruptcy law certification, although the written test(s) is administered by the American Board of Certification, attorneys should apply for approval of the LBLS certification simultaneously with the testing agency in order to avoid delay of board certification by the LBLS. Information concerning the American Board of Certification will be provided with the application form(s).

Anyone interested in applying for certification should contact LBLS Executive Director Barbara M. Shafranski, email barbara. shafranski@lsba.org. For more information, go to the LBLS website: https://www.lasc-mcle.org/specialization/.

ouisiana State Bar Association (LSBA) Access to Justice (ATJ) Self-Representation Counsel Michael W. Schachtman is the 2017 recipient of the Margaret T. Lane Award presented by the Louisiana Library Association's Government Documents Round Table Section.

Schachtman was recognized for his "significant contribution to legal reference services in Louisiana" and for his "contributions and services ensuring access to government and legal information and documents through initiatives such as the LEAP (Legal Education and Assistance Program) Program, the Lawyers in Libraries Program, and the Louisiana Self-Help Resource Centers."

A significant portion of Schachtman's LSBA work involves creating specialized resources for self-represented litigants and educating librarians about local and statewide services available to patrons. Because of his efforts, many individuals learn of Louisiana's legal resources, including local lawyer referral services, legal aid programs, pro bono volunteer organizations, statewide hotlines, courtapproved forms and help desks.

Lawyers from every parish in the state have participated in the "Lawyers in Libraries" program, but many individuals are still unable to obtain representation.

Schachtman shares this award with partners at the Law Library of Louisiana and the Louisiana State University Paul M. Hebert Law Center Library who also work to ensure Louisiana libraries and their patrons have access to Louisiana attorneys and legal resources.

Survey now open: "Justice Gap" could be the answer to growing your business he Louisiana Access to Justice Commission's Modest Means Committee is examining the lack of legal services available to clients falling into the "justice gap" — the gap between those able to access the courts through free legal services and those able to pay the standard rates charged by many private attorneys.

Many Louisiana residents fall into this "gap." Studies have found that a large percentage of Louisiana households fall above the federal poverty guidelines but cannot afford market-rate legal services. In most industries, a gap in the market might be presented as a business opportunity for market expansion of services, into which innovative entrepreneurs would enter. However, the legal market has been slow to expand into this territory of providing "affordable legal services."

As the committee examines how to assist with this issue — by connecting attorneys offering rates based on a client's ability to pay with modest means clients — attorneys interested are encouraged to respond to the online survey: www.surveymonkey.com/r/modestmeans.

The program launched could help increase business for innovative solo and small firm businesses willing to enter this market.

Applications being accepted for Re-Entry Court Collaborative Lawyering Program

The Louisiana State Bar Association's (LSBA) LIFT Incubator and Accelerator Program is working with organizations to reduce collateral consequences, faced by citizens convicted of an offense, through entrepreneurial lawyering. Applications for the new LIFT Fellow to work with this project will be accepted through April 7.

Launched in January, the Re-Entry Court Collaborative Lawyering Program was formed to address the gap in services for civil legal issues that pose barriers for returning participants in the Re-Entry Court program. This is critical as the potential for recidivism is compounded by a lack of access to justice for Re-Entry Court participants.

The LSBA's LIFT Program, Southeast Louisiana Legal Services, the VOTE-NOLA, the First 72+ and the Justice and Accountability Center of Louisiana have created a program to meet the needs of Re-Entry Court participants. The program assesses the legal needs of the participants and then matches the participant with an attorney or organization that can address the need.

LIFT is accepting applications for attorneys with zero-five years' experience who have started or plan to start a solo practice designed to reduce recidivism by addressing collateral consequences arising from incarceration. The new LIFT Fellow will receive training, resources and mentorship to provide representation for civil legal matters.

For more information on the program and to download the application, go to: www.lsba.org/LIFT/ReEntryCollaborativeLawyeringProject.aspx. Application submissions must be emailed to amy.duncan@lsba.org.

Attorney volunteer opportunities open for 2017 Suit Up Program he Louisiana State Bar Association (LSBA), in partnership with the Louisiana Bar Foundation and the Just the Beginning Foundation, hosts the annual Suit Up for the Future program, a free, three-week legal institute during which high school students attend an abridged law school session, participate in field trips to law schools and courts, and "shadow" legal professionals at law offices and courts. The 2017 program will be June 12-30.

The program is successful because attorneys, law firms, judges and organizations volunteer their time and/or staff. Program organizers are offering several ways to volunteer.

▶ Volunteer for one hour. During the three-week session, attorneys are invited to volunteer their time from noon-1 p.m. to talk with the Suit Up students. If you are interested in participating, email the Member Outreach and Diversity staff at diversity@lsba.org.

▶ Shadowing opportunities. During the second week of the Suit Up program, June 19-23, students are assigned to "shadow" attorneys at firms, courts and organizations. This provides an opportunity for students to see what attorneys do on a daily basis and to spend one-on-one time with attorneys in the workforce. If you or your firm would be interested in providing a shadowing opportunity for one or more Suit Up students, email diversity@lsba.org. ▮
